CIT 93 Week 7 Homework Assignment

This exercise is designed to be done as individuals, but with consultation from your peers.

The starting source files are available for download in the week 7 folder or you can continue from your project last week. I want you to choose a method such as a button and input field to add new items to the list.

Optional Hard Mode:

Hard Mode is designed for those who already have more advanced programming experience and want a bit more of a challenge. There are no addition points for completing an assignment in Hard Mode.

Choose a method to delete items from the list. You may find some CSS classes in the source files to help the look of your app when deleting completed items.
